

The FCC needs to seriously reconsider it's decision concerning limiting local satellite radio broadcasts. These service are too value to be limited in any way. In addition, you already allow such broadcasts for satellite TV, to limit radio would be hypocritical.

As a concerned and active user of this service, I urge you ro seriously reconsider your decision and not stifle competition in any way.

Sincerely,
Steve Rosen